

artnet® news

Editors' Picks: 19 Things to See in New York This Week

Sarah Cascone

November 6, 2017

Derrick Adams, Figure in the Urban Landscape I (2017). Courtesy of Tilton Gallery.

4. “Derrick Adams: Figures in the Urban Landscape” at Tilton Gallery

In his mixed-media portraits on paper and wood panel, Derrick Adams features both Western plaid patterns and African-inspired printed fabrics, alluding to the complexities of African-American identity. Overlaid on top of his figures are roadways, to which he’s affixed toy cars, enclosing the subjects in a window-like grid.