It's that time of the year when almost every week something super exciting is happening in the city. After only one day of recovering from the First of May we started off seeing some galleries from the Gallery Weekend. Gallery Weekend happens all around the city and as with every year, we tried to see as many possible galleries from the official guide – that's more than 50 locations! It's quite a big challenge going from Friedrichshain to Mitte to Tiergarten, Moabit, Kreuzberg, Charlottenburg and back to our home base Neukölln. This year we were driving around with a car and you could follow our footsteps on Twitter and Instagram in live time. We had so much fun bumping into friends in different galleries and being impressed by stunning artwork and spaces all over the place. See here our very best from this year's Gallery Weekend!
