

Time Out New York, March 2014

Laurie Simmons, “Kigurumi, Dollers and How We See”

Simmons tackles kigurumi, a form of Japanese cosplay in which people don costumes representing various cartoon characters—including those nubile young girls with exaggerated doe eyes who figure prominently in anime and manga. Her photos highlight the uncanny nature and less-than-subtle erotic subtext of these figures. Salon 94 Bowery, 243 Bowery at Stanton St (212-979-0001, salon94.com). Wed–Fri 11am–6pm; Sat, Sun noon–6pm. Thu 6–Apr 27.